

History From Below Approach

Our 'history from below' approach focuses upon the past from the perspective of ordinary people in Bristol and the South West rather than studying kings, politicians, generals and battles.

This 'local history' is then contextualised within a national and global picture.